Ingredients:

- 1 Tablespoon beeswax pastilles
- 1 Tablespoon grated candellila wax (or 1 1/2 Tablespoons candellila wax if you do not want to use beeswax)
- .3 oz. kokum butter
- .3 oz. cocoa butter
- .35 oz. shea butter
- .35 oz. hemp seed butter
- .35 oz. horsetail butter
- 1/2 teaspoon hemp seed oil
- 1 teaspoon evening primrose oil
- 1 teaspoon argan oil
- 1 teaspoon camelina oil
- 1 teaspoon clear jojoba oil
- 1 teaspoon Crafter's Choice Oil Soluble Botanic Extract Blend (or Calendula Infused Olive Oil)
- 1.5 ml olive squalane oil
- 2 ml GMO free Vitamin E oil
- 2 ml pure rosewood essential oil. (not a blend)
- 1/2 teaspoon fractionated coconut oil
- 1/2 teaspoon grape seed oil

Supplies:

digital kitchen scale.

8 empty 10 ml \(1/3 oz.\) lip balm pots with lids
 glass measuring cup
 metal utensil for stirring graduate plastic transfer pipettes.

Directions:

Begin by measuring out the waxes into a glass pyrex measuring cup and heat in microwave until melted about halfway through. Next, weigh out the butters using a digital kitchen scale and add to the partially melted waxes. Continue heating in the microwave until all ingredients are melted. Carefully remove the container - it will be hot so use a pot holder! - then measure out the all of the oils except for the olive squalane oil, vitamin E and rosewood essential oil with teaspoon and half teaspoon measurements and stir into the wax and butter mixture. Finally, using a different graduated plastic transfer pipette for the remaining ingredients, measure out the olive squalane oil, vitamin E oil and rosewood essential oil and stir into the mixture.

Finally, pour approximately .33 oz. of the liquid under eye cream into each of the eight lip balm pots. Allow to cool, then cap tightly. Each container of this nourishing eye cream will cost approximately $4 to make (including the cost of the container) depending on where you source the ingredients. The initial start up cost for this recipe, will be much higher as many of the ingredients need to be purchased in quantities larger than necessary for eight containers.

To use this natural handmade under eye cream, simply apply under and around the eye area at night. It can be reapplied in the morning and worn under makeup as well. This product has the consistency of a salve so little goes a long way! It also makes a nice base for applying eye makeup and giving your eyeshadow that extra needed staying power! It's also great for spot treatment of patches of dry skin and eczema. As with any product, if irritation develops, discontinue use immediately.
